

Amanda L. Gugliano, Psy.D., has been a licensed psychologist in Mississippi since 2011. She also is licensed to practice psychology in North Carolina. She holds bachelor's degrees in psychology and sociology from Lindenwood University, a master's degree in clinical psychology from the Arizona Professional School of Psychology, and a doctorate degree in clinical psychology from the Arizona Professional School of Psychology. Dr. Gugliano currently is the Director of the Forensic Evaluation Service at Mississippi State Hospital and an adjunct professor at Jackson State University. She often serves as a liaison between the Forensic Evaluation Service and the court system. She specializes in criminal forensic psychological evaluations, including competence to stand trial, mental state at the time of the alleged offense, mitigating circumstances, ability to waive or assert constitutional rights, violence risk assessments, and Atkins evaluations. She also has provided expert witness testimony in Mississippi and North Carolina state courts and Federal District Court.